Listing and selling privately is simple through Maxlist!

Maxlist made listing and selling our business a breeze. We contacted the customer support team when uploading a listing and they were so friendly and helpful and made the whole process simple and easy to understand.

Success through Maxlist!

Successfully sold our hardware shop through Maxlist for an excellent price. Highly recommend this site whether you are an agency or private seller as we had great results and it was so affordable compared to larger websites like realestate.com

Private Residential Sale

As a home owner it is daunting selling your property privately but with the help from Maxlist we successfully sold our home for a great price and were able to negotiate a great selling fee.

Agents working together

I have found a way to make extra income through Maxlist, as an agent I sometimes have buyers looking for a particular kind of property and I don't always have the stock, however through the advance search on Maxlist I have had several successful sales and made great contacts with other agencies.
